SAFETY AT SEA.

"LEADER" CABLE.

WIRELESS AND SOUND SIGNALS.

Archibald Hurd writes in the Daily Telegraph:—

There is a general impression that some of the researches carried on during the naval war produced results likely to be of value under peace conditions. It is doubtful, however, if it is generally recognised that as a result of the work of scientists and naval officers, acting under the authority of the Admiralty, we may be able to trace increased safety at sea to the inhuman and illegal campaign with submarine and mine which Germany conducted with callous disregard for life and property.

A cable from New York was recently published stating that "leader gear" had been laid in the channel of approach to that port, and that it was hoped that by its aid ships would be able to enter and leave New York harbour in the densest fog in complete safety.

A similar cable exists off Portsmouth, one of the legacies of the war; it is no less than eighteen miles long. The action of the New York harbour authorities is a reminder that navigation at sea and in enclosed waters will henceforth be attended by fewer risks than in the past. The "leader gear," as it is called, consists of the utilisation of electricity to guide vessels in enclosed waters during fog. A cable is laid on the bottom along the track which it is desired ships shall follow, and is supplied with alternating current. Ships which intend to take advantage of this guide are fitted with suitable coils or electrodes, and thus the electromagnetic induction or the return currents in the water can be made to give signals in telephones or other devices by which the course of the cable may be followed.

In his Kelvin Lecture, Dr. C. V. Drysdale, one of the group of scientists who placed their great knowledge and experience at the disposal of the Admiralty, has explained that the cable's current is cut up into signals by an automatic interrupter. Steering is effected by listening on the two coils alternately, the signals being stronger on the side of the ship nearer to the cable. In the hope of avoiding the necessity for listening to the ship's telephones, Dr. Drysdale has made experiments with tuned alternating relays to operate lamps on the bridge of the ship, thus securing continuous visual indications as to whether she is keeping on the course of safety. This development promises most important results, and it has been found possible to operate both the aural and visual systems of indication simultaneously on board the same ship and with the same cable. It is on these lines, apparently, that the harbour authorities of New York, taking advantage of the information gained on this side of the Atlantic by American naval officers attached to the Admiralty, are working. In this way electrical research will eventually enable ships to enter under conditions of dense fog the most tortuous channels of approach to the great harbours of the world. There is no reason to doubt that leader cables can be laid off Liverpool and London; as well as in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and it may be used for traffic to and from the Channel Islands.

SHIPS THAT FIND THEMSELVES.

In this connection, Dr. Drysdale has permitted himself to indulge in a most interesting speculation:

Although leader gear promises to be of great service for guiding ships into and out of harbours, it is obviously impossible to apply it generally for navigation in the open sea. It is therefore desirable to have some means whereby a ship in a fog can easily ascertain or be given its position, and thus avoid dangers, or be guided towards a leader cable. This may be done by directional wireless (another development of the war period). By obtaining bearings in this way with reference to two known fixed stations emitting continuous signals, the ship can obtain her position without other communication, and this device would be perfect if it were not that the ship's hull may disturb directional indications and give false bearings. This trouble may be circumvented by experimentally determining the deviations, but it may be a source of uncertainty.

He anticipates useful results from submarine sound ranging. For some years past submarine bells have been employed on the Atlantic coast for guiding ships, and the Germans utilised this aid to navigation on a considerable scale before the war. Looking to the future, Dr. Drysdale has observed:

If a sudden impulse, such as an explosion, is produced at a given point, the disturbance spreads out in all directions, and can be received on three or more fixed hydrophones or shock receivers. If there are only three receivers and the explosion takes place at the centre of a circle passing through them, the impulse should reach all the receivers simultaneously, but if it emanates from any other position it arrives at different times, and if these time differences can be accurately determined and the velocity of propagation is known, the position of the source can be calculated. This device, the introduction of which to marine service has been chiefly due to Professor Bragg, and which has been developed by Captain Boulding, has been of considerable service in the war for locating submarine explosions, apart from its well-known application for locating guns in land warfare; but it can obviously be equally applicable for locating ships if they drop depth charges or employ other methods, such as the Thomson spark, for producing strong submarine impulses. It is, of course, necessary in this case for the ship to notify the sound-ranging station by wireless of its need for location, whereupon the station wireless back instructions to make the explosion and signals the location as soon as the result has been worked out.

Probably the most promising method of location would be by means of simultaneous wireless and sound impulses sent out at intervals from a fixed station. If the ship were provided with a wireless equipment and a hydrophone, either or both of them being directional, the direction of the source would be easily determinable, and its distance by the interval of time between the arrival of the two signals—nearly a mile for each second of interval. This may very likely prove to be far the most convenient and accurate method of location, and arrangements are being made for developing it.

Other devices are also the subject of continuous experiment, and the outlook for ocean navigation in future is most consoling. There is every reason to believe that the scientist, working in association with practical seamen, will enable a ship to locate its position in any weather, and guide itself into a harbour or through a channel in a fog. The only other considerable danger consists in obstacles such as a derelict vessel, or an iceberg, or rocks. In the opinion of Dr. Drysdale, it is probable that echo methods of detection will eliminate such perils. "High frequency acoustic methods have given," he has stated, "very good echoes with sharp directional indication on ships and rocks, but it is not yet known how far it has been successful with icebergs. These latter present special difficulties, as the elastic properties of ice do not differ so greatly from those of water as to give a high percentage of reflection, but from calculations already made it appears probable that an iceberg of any moderate size will be detected and located without great difficulty."

WHAT WILL SHIPOWNERS DO?

Finally, Dr. Drysdale has observed that "if these various devices prove as successful as they appear to promise, it seems probable that before long the last remaining dangers will be eliminated from navigation, and that passages will be made without danger or delay in all weathers." Younger officers of the Navy, with their varied war experiences, have realised the importance of these developments, and with the full approval of the Board of Admiralty, research is being prosecuted with unabated enthusiasm. As has been already announced, a new physical laboratory is to be erected by the Admiralty at Teddington, so as to be near the existing National Physical Laboratory. Mr. F. E. Smith, F.R.S., has become Director of Scientific Research, under the Admiralty, charged with the duty of co-ordinating purely scientific research and experimental work with the operations which are being carried out in connection with the signalling, mining, torpedo, and gunnery schools at the various naval ports. The Navy is fully alive to the importance of the application of science, not only to the problems of war, but to those of practical navigation in peace time. It remains to be seen whether the harbour authorities throughout the Empire and shipping interests generally will realise the possibilities which the researches carried on during the war places within their reach. It is a matter of no slight importance to those who travel by sea that the fullest possible advantage should be taken of every development which may produce greater safety. This is a matter which

CITY FIRE.

BLAZE THIS MORNING.

A STRENUOUS FIGHT.

About 6.20 this morning, the fire brigade received a call to attend a fire in a cockloft of the ground floor of No. 12, Peel Street, occupied by a contractor and carpenter shop.

Two engines were soon on the scene, but the flames having spread had already taken a hold of the first floor. A strenuous fight followed and for well over an hour the fire fighters played several hoses on the flames which were eventually got under control and extinguished.

At 7.50 the "all clear" was given. The best part of the ground and first floors were completely gutted.

The cause of the outbreak is unknown, while the extent of the damage suffered has not yet been ascertained. The premises are insured with the Luen Tai Insurance Co. for $15,500.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Mr. C. McI. Messer is expected to return from leave by the "Sicilia" due on December 4.

In attempting to alight from a moving tram car in Des Voeux Road yesterday morning a Chinese overbalanced and fell, receiving injuries which rendered him unconscious.

A fight with another man resulted in a Chinese receiving such serious knife wounds on his body that he had to be removed to hospital for treatment. His assailant has absconded.

Paymaster-Commander W. H. Eldon Manisty, C.B., C.M.G., has been appointed to the flagship "Hawkins" for special duty under the Commander-in-Chief of the China Station.

A Chinese girl, aged 8 years, was yesterday admitted to the Government Civil Hospital suffering from serious injuries to her face and chest received through being knocked down by motor car No. 279 in Queen's Road East.

Major General Sir G. M. Kirkpatrick, K.C.B., K.C.S.I., who takes over the duties of General Officer Commanding China Command, from Major General F. Ventris, C.B., is a passenger to Hongkong by the "Bremen."

For the unlawful possession of 200 rounds of ammunition which were found in the false bottom of a box which he claimed when searched on the Praya yesterday, a Chinese was this morning fined $50 by Magistrate Smith. The ammunition was confiscated.

An enjoyable concert and dance was held at the Institution of Engineers and Shipbuilders on Saturday night, when the following ladies and gentlemen took part:—Mrs. J. W. Kew (mezzo-soprano), Miss Clara Frost (soprano), Mr. T. G. Patterson (bass), Mr. R. Hall and Mr. Farthing supplying the humorous element. All the items were encored. Miss D. Frost and Mr. Farthing acted as accompanists. The concert finished at 11 o'clock, when dancing took place, a most enjoyable evening terminating at midnight. It is proposed to have another concert and dance on Saturday, December 11.

concerns the Board of Trade, Trinity House, the underwriters of Lloyd's, those responsible for the maintenance of our harbours, and the great body of shipowners, and it would be a hopeful sign if the shipping industry, in all its ramifications, were associated with the Admiralty in the study of these new problems.

WOMEN JURORS.

MALE REJOICINGS.

APPEALS FOR EXEMPTION.

With profound sympathy, deepened by gratitude, men are watching the extension of the privilege of jury service to their sisters, and their cousins and their aunts. Whatever the stubborn prejudice which maintained the traditional rights of man in other departments, there is, we venture to assure the female sex, hardly a voice to break the harmony of male rejoicing at their entry into the jury-box. In some ancient democracies the citizens were, accused of an excessive appetite for the jurors' function.
This has never been the characteristic weakness of the freeborn Briton whose feelings are only too accurately expressed in the deplorable confession of a certain man of letters that when serving on a jury, he always found for the defendant in order to discourage litigation.
This is, we may warn the new jurors, a policy which should only be applied to civil cases. But we do not expect that women will feel anything but contempt for such cynicism, and soon a glow of idealism should shine forth from our jury-boxes. For the recruits are a great multitude. In one magisterial division of London, which includes but three boroughs, 12,000 female names have been added to the list. Whether or not this makes any appreciable difference to the litigant and the accused, it will much alleviate the incidence of service. We are not surprised to hear that women are making few appeals for exemption from their new obligations. In one typical suburban division of London only four were heard. The spirit of the sex seems to be expressed by the lady who wrote, "If I am called I have no doubt I could serve, although I am 62." We avoid all reference to a joke which humorists have loved, not wisely but too well, in noting that the great majority of appellants made their claims on grounds of age. One lady of 76, for instance, very reasonably asking for exemption, remarked, "I don't want to make myself out older than I am.
I would like to say I am only 26,"
and left the matter to the magistrates. Without the evidence of a birth certificate, however, the Courts have shown great diffidence in accepting anyone's estimate of female age. Even a rate-collector's opinion, and surely no man could be more coldly remote from the sentimental illusions of humanity, was in one case sternly rejected by a magistrate who dared to defy all human experience with the dictum that a rate-collector might easily be deceived.
Yet the decisions in general
leaned to mercy's side.
The pupils of a certain schoolmistress, indeed, who declared that she dared not leave them to

CHINESE PORCELAIN.

A RARE BOWL.

PRESENTED TO THE NATION.

By the generosity of a body of subscribers, substantially aided by the National Art-Collections Fund, the Victoria and Albert Museum has acquired a specimen of one of the rarest and most keenly sought of early Chinese porcelains, the celebrated Chun ware of the Sung dynasty.
Hitherto, though more than one American museum can show examples of this beautiful ware, in England it could be studied only in private collections.
The new addition to the treasures of the nation is a shallow bowl, for growing bulbs in, of the finest quality.
It is of the usual form, with three small feet and, round the side, a row of studs in relief. The glaze on the outside belongs to the class of "transmutation" glazes, with varied coloured colouring produced solely by skilful management of the firing, imitated in the well-known rouges, flames of the 18th century;
its colour is predominantly bluish-white, and passages of fiery rose. The inside is covered with a cloudy greyish-lavender glaze, showing where contraction has occurred in the firing the so-called "earth-worm" markings characteristic of early wares of this type. The underside has a brown glaze with olive-green markings, and bears the numbered L'at (7), indicating the size of the vessel, cut through the glaze before firing. It also displays another feature of the true Chun porcelain, a ring of scars left by the breaking away of the "stilts" or "cock-spurs" used for support in the kiln. Not only students of ceramics, but all who enjoy beauty of colour will be grateful to the friends of the museum, whose public spirit has brought within view of all who care to see it this splendid production of the potters of ancient China.

their own devices, must now be rejoicing in the failure of her appeal for exemption. But the lady who protested that she would suffer from the impure air of the courts was relieved from service in spite of the indignant protest of the clerk that the air of British courts is not impure, and the other, my appellant who, having entered an appeal, fled from its hearing because she was too nervous to face the Bench, also secured exemption. The fact that emerges is that practically all women are very ready to accept the duties,
as well as the rights of citizenship,
and it is not fantastic to hope that they will give us a higher ideal of conscientious service of the community.

AMAZING SWINDLER.

MOCK DOCTOR'S ARTISTIC TOUCH.

Berlin, September 23.—One of the most amazing swindlers in Switzerland of recent years has just been sentenced to 2½ years hard labour in Zurich.
His career of crime appears to have begun in his native town of Stuttgart, where he managed to borrow various sums of money, including 20,000 marks from a dressmaker with whom he pretended to be in love. He therefore had to leave Germany in haste. He then came to Romanshorn, in Switzerland, and, calling himself Dr. Anderwert, obtained another 14,000 marks from a waitress, whom he abandoned after she had given birth to a child.

Still retaining his real name, and his self-awarded title of doctor, he went to one of the largest hotels in Zurich, stated that he was a specialist at the women's hospital, and soon made himself the centre of the hotel society by showing forged letters from famous surgeons praising his wonderful skill at the operation table. At times he even sprinkled himself with a chloroform preparation to give colour to his tales.
While he was at this hotel, "Dr."
Anderwert borrowed various sums from visitors, from a local actress, and from the hotel porter. He also became engaged to a Hungarian lady, whom he persuaded to call herself the Princess of Pless, and he gave a big reception to celebrate the engagement, all the money for the reception having been borrowed beforehand from certain of the guests.

After he had been leading this life for three months he was arrested, to the great astonishment of the other hotel visitors, in connection with his conduct at Romanshorn. During his engagement his fiancée accompanied him daily to his work at the women's hospital little knowing that he said good bye to her at one door, walked through the building, and left by another door.—The Times.

REAL TOOTH DANGER LIES UNDER THE GUMS.

Under the gums is the important foundation—the bony root sockets which hold the teeth in place.

Healthy gums guard and preserve this foundation of your teeth. Soft, bleeding, tender or receding gums allow Pyorrhea infection to creep beneath them. If unchecked, the germs spread to the bony root sockets, weaken and destroy them.

Then your teeth become loose and eventually fall out, or must be extracted—because Pyorrhea has eaten away their supporting foundation. You may have kept the visible surface of the teeth white and glistening by daily brushing—you may have had all cavities skillfully filled—but all that care has gone for naught because you neglected your gums.

Watch your gums if you want to save your teeth.

Pyorrhoe Powder was compounded for the specific purpose of maintaining and restoring gum health. In addition to its ingredients which keep the teeth white and clean, it is medicated with Dentalol, a germicidal and healing agent widely used by the dental profession in the treatment of Pyorrhea at the dentist's chair.

Pyorrhoe Powder tones up the gums, stimulates their blood circulation, maintains hardness and firmness, thereby increasing the power to resist Pyorrhea infection. Its effectiveness for this purpose has been conclusively proved by thorough tests in clinics devoted exclusively to Pyorrhea study and research. That is why dentists everywhere recommend it.

CANTON TRADE.

According to the Acting Commissioner, Mr. A. Wilson, the net value of Canton's trade for 1919 was nearly 148 millions, an increase of 41 or 45 millions. He is, however, that this apparent increase is fictitious, being due to a largely increased amount of the staple product of "tungtung," which is silk. The new Revised Import Tariff which is in force during the last five months of the year also affects the figures. The effect of the boycott of Japanese goods may be regarded as offsetting these discounts. It is surprising how foreign imports managed to maintain their position in view of the fluctuations in the price of silver, and in exchange, conditions tend to return to what we call normal, the indications are that Canton trade will continue to expand and really flourish.

With regard to the Japanese boycott, the Acting Commissioner says that formerly the official Chinese were not interested in foreign policy, and even when they seemed to be so they were motivated by officials who were, at now, he declares, it is easy to detect the working of a general public opinion, and sense of patriotism under the crude form of trade boycott. Unfortunately, in Canton the movement fell into the hands of rash and indiscreet students, who were used as catapaults (as said by the smaller merchants who were annoyed by the competition of the big stores).

In connection with the pulling down of the old city wall, and the laying of a fine road on the site, it is said that the improvement is noticeable, and that the Municipal Council deserves all praise for excellent reforms, carried out in face of much ignorant obstruction.

Some indication of the rise in prices is given by the discovery of the imports of certain lines, though less in quantities, showed higher aggregate values than before. This was noticeable with cotton goods. It is interesting to note that the import of motor spirit increased largely. It seems that already they have about 18 motor-cars up there, to say nothing of the much more numerous motor boats. Rice was dearer in this year than it had ever been known to be for 60 years, a dollar having only ten centimes of medium quality. It is true that two crops had failed the previous year, but the situation would not have become so bad but for the questionable tactics of certain foreign merchants, who attempted to corner the grain harvest for speculative purposes.

Exports were the highest in value since 1910, silk explaining 70 per cent. of the high export total. The outlook for this trade is very bright, the current crops having been sold out in advance. Exports of Canton leaf tobacco increased 50 per cent., showing that the demand at home for "Turkish" cigarettes has to be satisfied somehow.

EDUCATION.

One of our schoolmaster correspondents (in another colony) writes that the education of children between the ages of six and ten is the most important thing. He says it will never be any good in Hongkong until every official gets it into his mind that we Westerners are here only until the Chinese can look after the supply of schoolmasters (heads) as well as of teachers. He bids the China Mail encourage tenderly all schools which try to work without Government help or interference. The Straits Settlements have now scores of Chinese schools non-aided, independent in thought and work, with every sign of school life (e.g., magazines, societies, scouts, bands, voluntary aid to poor, etc.) without any European, and most of their teachers come from China. They are modern men, with plans.

He makes some suggestions for comments on our University, but in view of the Siamese Government's recent action following our criticisms, and the fact that this institution is practically making a fresh start, we withhold them.

ACCIDENTS WILL HAPPEN.

It may be impossible to prevent an accident, but it is not impossible to be prepared for it. Chamberlain's Pain Expeller is not beyond anyone's power, and with a bottle of this important preparation and for most anything. For sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The Prince of Wales is writing preface to a book picturing his tour of Australia and New Zealand. The book is to be sold on behalf of St. Dunstan's Home for the Blind.

To the Guildhall Library has been presented a copy of the bronze medal struck very prematurely by the Germans to commemorate their entry into Paris at Christmas, 1914.

Sir John Ramsden is by far the biggest rubber shareholder and individual landowner in British Malaya, though many people out here have never heard his name, says the Malay Mail.

The rag and bone man knocked at the door. "Any old clothes?" he asked. "Oh, no," came the reply. "My wife is away." The hawker rubbed his hands gleefully, and "Any empty bottles?" he whispered.

Among the passengers who arrived in Hongkong yesterday by the C.M.S. "China" were Dr. Sun Yat-sen, Dr. Wu Ting-fang, and Mr. Tang Shao-yi, three of the Administrative Directors of the Canton Military Government, who left by train the same day for Canton.

Commencing with the sailing of the s.s. "Siberia Maru" from Hongkong on December 31, that steamer and also the s.s. "Persia Maru" will call at Dairen instead of Nagasaki on both the outward and homeward voyages between Hongkong and San Francisco.

The Agent-General for Western Australia is being instructed to bring to the notice of the Imperial Government a complaint that a London financial ring is making millions out of Australian fruit, which is penalising Australia to the advantage of America. Removal of the restriction price of 23s. 6d. for a 40 lb. case is urged.

London is experiencing the worst epidemic of diphtheria and scarlet fever ever recorded. 7,500 cases are at present in hospital equalling double the number at the corresponding time last year; most cases are mild but adults are attacked equally with children; the worst districts are the poorer and more thickly populated quarters.

The silk design shown by H.M.S. "Malaya" at the battle of Jutland, and now in the keeping of the Kuala Lumpur Museum authorities, after being sent to this country, formed the most striking exhibit at the dinner of ex-service men in the Federal Capital on Armistice Day, the flag flying completely one end of the large hall.

"I ought to send you to prison without the option of a fine," said the Willesden magistrate to a drink offender. The man: "Now don't do that. I must have a liverer this morning." The magistrate: "Very well. Twenty shillings for being drunk, 20s. for being disorderly, 20s. for using obscene language, £2 for..." The man had disappeared below.

The Wai Yi Pao furnishes a fresh explanation of Little Hsu's escape. It states that Hsu was placed in a box marked "Military Baggage" and taken by train to Tientsin, where he was immediately placed on board a Japanese steamer. When the steamer sailed (adds this journal) Mr. Obata reported the escape. The paper further asserts that Hsu has already arrived in Japan.

An amusing story is told in the "Life of Sir Herbert Tree." An actor was playing the part of villain and it was arranged that after filling through the bars of his prison cell and while he was in the act of forcing himself through a shot should ring out and he should fall dead as if shot through the window. He arrived at the critical moment but for some reason or other the shot never came. He had an inspiration. "My God," he shouted, "I have swallowed the file," and fell dead.

One of the most important questions to-day, though it is hardly realized as it should be, is Japan's constant problem of how to feed her great population. Of about 3,000,000 square cho of rice plantation in Japan, about 900,000 square cho is badly watered, according to a Government return. At the last session of the Diet, the Department of Agriculture and Commerce obtained approval of an estimate of ¥2,000,000 for the improvement of these plantations, and it is reported that as a first step towards this end the Department has started investigations into the half of the 900,000 square cho. It is expected that when this work is consummated, about 15,000,000 koku more of rice will be gathered in the whole country. This rice question in Japan is really the keystone of Far Eastern politics.

INDIGESTION AND BILIOUSNESS.

YOU should not eat food of any kind when bilious, but take a full dose of Chamberlain's Tablets and drink plenty of water. That will cleanse the stomach, move the bowels and restore the system to healthy condition. For sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.

BIG JEWEL ROBBERY.

FALCONER'S BURGLAR.

LOSS OVER $50,000.

HOW THE ROBBERY WAS COMMITTED.

Apparently encouraged by their success on the previous Saturday when a comparatively easy haul of money and valuable goods was made from premises occupied by Messrs. Hiptoola and Co., drapers, and the Victoria Printing Press, neighbouring establishments in D'Aguiar Street, our burglars turned their attention on Saturday night to Messrs. Falconer's store in Hotel Mansions, and notwithstanding the presence of two watchmen, broke in and stole jewellery to a value estimated between $50,000 and $100,000.

It would appear from enquiries made by our reporters yesterday afternoon and this morning, that with the exception of eluding the watchman at the main entrance of Hotel Mansions, a part of the affair which remains to be explained, the burglars had an almost ridiculously easy job. Once past the watchman, the burglars made their way through a narrow passage by the side of the lift to a yard enclosed by the back of Falconer's premises, on the harbour side, the C.P.O.S. on the harbour side, the P.M.S.S. on the Des Vaux Road side, and the servants' quarters on the remaining side. The yard gained, the burglars were able to commence operations on the lock of a door at the back of Falconer's store with a jemmy or chisel. Behind this door was a stout iron gate, with bars about 6 inches apart. Forcing two of these apart, the burglars squeezed through the gap, one foot wide, and were in the premises. Apparently they first set to work on a safe placed against the wall at the back of the store where they secured two valuable pearl necklaces and some expensive cut diamonds together with other precious stones. They then boldly entered the front portion of the store which was usually, was brilliantly lighted up. Breaking open the show windows on either side of the front door of the shop, they abstracted all the gold brooches, bracelets and other jewellery. Two safes in this part of the premises were left severely alone by the burglars, who apparently were not taking any risks of detection. Satisfied with what they had secured, they made their way back to the yard through the iron gate, where they dragged the safe up to the gap in the bars. This done they closed the door and probably strolled out by the main entrance.

The watchman on duty outside the main entrance of Hotel Mansions, which was left open all night, cannot explain how the burglars managed to elude him on their way to and from the yard. The other watchman who sat outside Falconer's front door, about five yards away from the main entrance of the building, also asserts that he saw no one go through. He declares that at intervals he looked into the store through the open show windows but saw nothing to arouse his suspicion.

The burglary was discovered by the manager of the store yesterday morning. He immediately communicated with the police who were soon on the scene.

This is the second time that Falconer's has been victimized within the last two years. The value of the present haul is almost double that of the previous one.

All the wharves and railway stations were watched yesterday, but no arrests were effected.

STOLEN MOTOR CAR.

SPIRITED AWAY TO CANTON.

THREE MEN ARRESTED.

Inspector Kent, of No. 2, Police Station, this morning charged three Chinese before Magistrate Orme with the theft of a motor car from No. 23, Irving Street, Wanchai.

The defendants, who were represented by Mr. A. E. Hall, pleaded "not guilty."

The Inspector said that the first defendant, a watchman employed by a Chinese gentleman to watch the ground floor of the house where the car was kept, came to the station and reported that the car had been stolen. The hinges of the door of the premises were wrenched away and the door was found open in the morning. Detectives learned that the car had been taken to Canton by train that very morning, a little before the report of the theft was made. The watchman and the other two defendants who were fitted, had been about 5 p.m. the previous day fixing up the car. The Canton police were once informed and the car was detained on arrival there until a witness from Hongkong identified it. The Inspector asked for a remand pending the return of that witness and the car.

Mr. Hall having no objection, the application was granted.

CORRESPONDENCE.

BATHING BEACHES.

[To the Editor of the "China Mail"]

Sir—In view of the fact that a harbor expert is at present in the colony and that the Honourable the Director of Public Works is about to retire, would it not be feasible to have these gentlemen go over the ground and give us their views on the subject?

The fact is that the matter has never been thoroughly gone into, and, if it had, it been for the sporting offer of a wealthy Chinese gentleman a couple of years ago to pay all expenses in connection with the clearing of a proper site at North Point, the bathing beach question would be still in the air.

The figures you published some time ago prove conclusively how popular the beaches have been.

Perhaps if some of the fair sex let us have their views on the subject they would carry more weight, for quite a number used to enjoy a dip at North Point, morning and evening, to personal knowledge.

The allotment of a permanent beach at the present time and named "Chatham Beach" would be a fitting tribute to Mr. Chatham's worth as a government official and an appreciation of his many years of faithful service.—Yours etc.

"OPTIMIST."

GYMKHANA CLUB.

SATURDAY'S MEETING.

AN ENJOYABLE AFTERNOON.

IMPRESSIONS OF HAPPY VALLEY.

The thousands who attended the fifth meeting of the Hongkong Gymkhana Club at Happy Valley on Sunday saw a sporting scene that for variety as well as beauty of setting could be equalled in few places in the world. It was as if some great cornucopia of contestants had been suddenly emptied out on the broad acres of green turf. The valley itself, enclosed on three sides by wooded hills and on the fourth by the harbour, sparkling in the sunshine; the oval, within whose capacious boundaries a dozen different games were under way, watched by an army of spectators; the track around the outer edge on which from time to time half a score or more of ponies raced in desperate endeavour, urged on by riders in flashing colours; the grand stands bright with flags and crowded with visitors; and the enclosures filled with a throng of men and women of many races in fashionable or characteristic attire—all these things made the sort of picture that stamps itself upon the memory.

The day was perfect. The sun was out, the atmosphere was clear, and a pleasant breeze kept the flags fluttering. A band was there—the band of the 2nd Battalion of the Wiltshire Regiment—and played agreeably between the races. One way and another there was a feast of entertainment. The races followed each other in comfortable succession; there was little waiting. In the lulls, one had but to lift one's eyes to the oval inside the track to watch either cricket or football, whichever was the inclination led. There was so much football going on; it was confusing to try to follow it. At least eight footballs were going, either in games or practice—from the keenly fought contests of adult players that gave rise every few minutes to cheering from the crowds that pressed against the lines, to less pretentious affairs, just as sharply disputed but unimportant by public attention, in which diminutive bare-footed Chinese youngsters were the participants.

The track was in excellent shape. All the races were interesting—some of them exciting. The first event was the ten-pony race, won by Major Timmis. The rest of the programme consisted of racing. Just after the ten-pony race, the Governor arrived. After that it was just one good race after another.

There were several features to the afternoon's performance. One was that the Hon. Mr. Johnstone captured three events, and got the prize in a fourth. The latter was a race with an unpronounceable name in which the rider of the last horse was fined, but the owner won a prize. Mr. Johnstone's horse came in last. He can be said to have won three firsts and a last—which is rather a novel record. Mr. Johnstone, Mr. Seth, and Mr. Soares generally stood out above the other contestants for their skill in picking positions and judgment of speed.

Another feature was the last race, which furnished an exciting finish and sent everybody home in a satisfied mood. It was a handicap over one and a quarter miles and was won by Mr. Johnstone on Lightning from Mr. Soares on Pawnsnip, after a close fight all the way down the straight. The winner got it by half a head.

In the Gymkhana Stakes, Mr. Johnstone on Slam took the race by a length from Mr. Soares on Spotted Sand, and won the cup.

The Cash Sweep generally went to good-sized amounts. In the Gymkhana Stakes, the winning ticket received $2,044.40, and in the last race it received $2,699.90.

The officials of the meeting were:—
Patrons:—H.E. Sir R. E. Strabbs, K.C.M.G., H.E. Vice-Admiral Sir A. L. Duff, K.C.B., H.E. Major-General F. Ventris, C.B.E., Commodore W. Bowden-Smith, C.B.E.

Committee:—The Stewards of the Hongkong Jockey Club (ex-officio) the Hon. Mr. John Johnstone, Mr. G. C. Moxon, Mr. C. H. Blason, Mr. D. E. Clark, Mr. L. N. Leefe, Major Timmis, and Mr. J. The ponies got away well altogether and raced with Mr. Soares slightly in the lead all the way until they entered the straight. Here his lead was challenged by Mr. Johnstone who quickly took command. The dappled pony stood up to it well but was unable to keep stride with his smaller opponent. At the half distance Mr. Johnstone was three quarters of a length in front. He made the full length in the last few strides. Mr. Moxon was about four lengths away third.

Brid-Gen. Macnaghten's Ypres (late Spazhetti), 155 lbs. (Brid-Gen. Macnaghten) 7

The start was a good one. Wee Mouse got out in front and Burning Daylight took the rails in third position. Cranby was next, closely attended by Cannon, Sepand and Ypres. Wee Mouse made the running up the back with the others bunched behind. At the Rock Wee Mouse held command, but, as the pace slackened, Sepand slipped up into second place. Burning Daylight, who was going strong, held the third place on the rails. Sepand on the outside was first to show in the straight, closely followed by Wee Mouse and Burning Daylight. Wee Mouse dropped back immediately and Cranby shot up into second place. The whips were going hard at the distance where Mr. Johnstone left the rails and came on even terms with Sepand. He continued to gain every stride and passed the post with two lengths to spare. Three lengths separated second and third.

Mr. Blank's Rab.

At the start Tonic was the first to show up on the rails, closely followed by Carlisle, Turf King, Winterlight and Griffin No. 3, with the field bunched behind. In this order the straight was reached. At the distance Target closed up, with Griffin No. 3, who was close handy, and Winterlight, on even terms with the leaders on the inside. Carlisle, Turf King, and Tonic fell back into the pack at the half distance and Winterlight showed out by a half length from Target with Griffin No. 3 the most prominent of the bunch behind. A few lengths from home Griffin No. 3 made a game effort and drawing up on the leaders went to the front and won by about half a length. Second and third were close together. Mr. Johnstone's mount finished last.

Hon. Mr. J. Johnstone's Lightning, 156 lbs. (Mr. Johnstone) 1
Mr. Fernandez's Pawnsnip, 148 lbs. (Mr. Fernandez) 2
Mr. Soares' Siamese Cat, 160 lbs. (Mr. Soares) 3
Mr. Johnstone's Alexander, 158 lbs. (Mr. Johnstone) 4
Mr. Nemazee's Sepand, 143 lbs. (Mr. Bell Irving) 5

The ponies were uneasy at the post and had to be brought back from a false start. When they came to the line again Pawnsnip was on the move and got a flying start that put him on the rails four lengths ahead of the field which was bunched. Pawnsnip led into the straight for the first time, setting a very slow pace and continued to lead with a steady second. Johnstone on Lightning was a handy second on the rails, two lengths behind, followed closely by Alexander and Siamese Cat. Sepand was last. At the bottom turn Lightning moved up to Pawnsnip's quarters, but the positions were otherwise unchanged. Opposite the stand place and Pawnsnip drew well further in the lead. The field closed up on the second division at the Rock and Siamese Cat drew up into second place, behind Alexander and Lightning who were fast overhauling Pawnsnip. Coming round the top Pawnsnip, however, increased his lead a little and led into the straight from Lightning. Siamese Cat, Alexander, and Sepand, Alexander ran out at the turn and lost a lot of ground, and Johnstone, leaving the rails, took the centre of the field, followed on the inside by Siamese Cat. At the distance the riders were working hard at their mounts and Johnstone and Soares were on very close terms—Pawnsnip had about a half length the better of it. At the half distance Lightning drew level with Pawnsnip and they saw-saw past the post, Lightning winning home by half a head after a splendid race. Siamese Cat was two lengths away third, Alexander 4th, and Sepand last.

Mr. P. A. Cox's Red Coat, 157 lbs., including 5 lbs. penalty. (Mr. Cox) 4
Hon. Mr. P. H. Hobyak's Grey Bird, 157 lbs., including 5 lbs. penalty. (Mr. Bartholomew) 5

Though there were 15 nominations only five ponies went to the post. The starter had a good deal of trouble before he sent them away. Leighton at the start secured a good position in front on the rails, before the field got going with Red Coat in second position followed by St. Anthony and Griffin No. 6, but before the race was reached Grey Bird moved up on the outside and St. Anthony, who was in third position, went to the front. The field scattered down and there was no alteration in the positions. Approaching the home turn St. Anthony further increased his lead and turned the corner first. Grey Bird ran out wide at the turn and Leighton came through into second place with Griffin No. 6 on his girth. St. Anthony drew still further ahead at the distance and at the half distance was five lengths in front. A fine tussle was fought out from the half distance onwards between Leighton and Griffin No. 6 but Leighton, having a slight advantage in stride, managed to get home into second place by a neck. The field finished two lengths away.

Mr. Henderson's Black Coat, 45 yards (Mr. Barton) 7
Mr. Bartholomew's Georgie Mac, 55 yards (Mr. Bartholomew) 8
Mr. Nemazee's Supper Dance, 75 yards (Mr. Nemazee) 9

When the field came together Why Not was showing in front galloping easily. At the turn Supper Dance showed up with Brunus and Cranby on his quarters. At the distance the position was unchanged, but at the half distance Ringwood on the rails challenged the leaders and was followed in his move up by Black Coat and Moonshine. Why Not maintained his lead but the third division reached Brunus at the half distance. Pott lifted his mount with the whip but could not reach the leader, while Seth on Moonshine was unable to get beyond the girth of Brunus before the post was passed. Ringwood was fourth and Georgie Mac fifth.

LEAGUE CRICKET.

C.R.C. AND H.K.C.C. DRAW.

The league cricket match between the C.R.C. and the H.K.C.C. on the latter's ground on Saturday afternoon, saw some high scoring, and resulted in a well played draw. The wicket was hard, and the bowlers were knocked about all over the field. The home team batted first and collected 187 runs for the loss of 5 wickets, at which figure they declared their innings closed. The wickets went down 1 for 21, 2 for 54, 3 for 78, 4 for 96 and 5 for 111. Turner was not out with a prettily compiled 112, in which he made 16 fours, and hit one into Chater Road for six. The first Chinese pair to bat started very well, and scored 54 before the first wicket went down. They managed to play out time, and when stumps were drawn, the match was declared a draw, the Chinese having 143 runs to their credit for the fall of 3 wickets. The second wicket went down for 66, and the third for 120. Ng Sze Kwong carried his bat to the close of the innings with 81 runs to his credit. He was very comfortably set, and but for the call of time, would almost certainly have obtained his century. His score included 11 fours.

K.C.C. DRAW WITH C.S.C.C.

This match, which was played in Kowloon on Saturday did not prove any too interesting, and but for the intervention of time, the visitors would have inflicted a severe defeat to the home team. The Civil Service declared at 147 for the loss of seven wickets, and then their bowlers proceeded to make quick work with the Kowloon batsmen in a desperate attempt to get them all out before the call of time. They were successful in getting their victims out cheaply until Stapleton made a stand, and in spite of all attempts to dispose of him, kept his end up, and managed to play out time. His score of 27 was his side's only double figure. Of the others, Pestonji's 7 was the highest score.

INDIANS DEFEAT UNIVERSITY.

This match, which was played at Sookumpoo Valley on Saturday, resulted in an easy win for the Indians by two wickets. Batting first, the Indians compiled 76 runs before the first wicket went down, after which a rot set in, and Samy, who was bowling a capital length, had no difficulty in getting wickets cheaply. Rumjahn played a very creditable innings, scoring 83 runs, of which 15 were fours. The rot was stopped by the tail which brought the score to 158 at which figure the innings was declared closed for the fall of 8 wickets. The University started very poorly, losing three wickets for 14 runs. The rot was stopped with the arrival of the fifth man, who managed to take the score up to 37 before he went out. The sixth wicket fell for 81 runs, and then the rot again set in, and the other batsmen went out very cheaply, adding only 17 runs to the score. The whole side was out for 98. The top scorer of the side was I. T. Pun with 30. His innings however, was marred by the fact that he gave no fewer than four chances, and it was only extraordinary good luck which saved him from going out earlier.

FRIENDLY MATCHES.

R.G.A. v. R.E. AND LA.

The R.G.A. had very bad luck on Saturday. Having lost the toss, they opened their innings late and did not have time to complete it. But for the call of time, they would undoubtedly have inflicted a severe defeat on the R.E. and LA., who declared at 153 runs for the fall of nine wickets. Capt. Wahl was the chief contributor with 51. The Artillery replied very creditably with a first partnership which saw the score to 104 before it was broken. Lieut. Chester and Bdr. Baker were responsible for this fine exhibition, the latter scoring 76 well compiled runs and the former 31. Time was called with the Artillery having 140 runs to their credit, and only two wickets down. The match was declared a draw.

C.R.C. 2nd BEAT CLUB DE RECREIO.

RECREIO.

This match, which was played at Causeway Bay on Saturday, resulted, as predicted, in a comfortable win for the Chinese. The Portuguese batted first, but started very badly, three wickets going down for 7, 3 and 1 runs respectively. Then Pina made a stand against the bowling and a pretty 43 before he was disposed of. Next followed another spell of run until the last three batsmen, H. Xavier, J. Remedios and F. Orosio lived things, and took the score up to 123 before Remedios was caught out by Lai Kuen. Xavier contributed 39 and Remedios 10. The only other double figure contribution was 12 by F. Orosio. The Chinese found little to worry them in the Portuguese bowling, and immediately set about hitting it all over the field, scoring 143 runs for 5 wickets, winning easily. Lai Kuen was very unlucky in getting leg before and was the only batsman of the side who was got out for 0. Of the others, four contributed double figures and Wong Sik-cheung (not out) 6. The best score was Wong Po-keung's 76.

SATURDAY'S LEAGUE MATCHES.

FIRST DIVISION.

Wills 3 S. China 1
R.G.A. 3 "Tamar" 1
Kowloon 1 "Ambrose" 1
Police 0 Club 0

The results of Saturday's First Division matches were more or less expected—about the only surprise was the "Tamar's" defeat to the R.G.A. Considering, however, that the "Tamar" played with a depleted team, some of their best players having gone home last week, they did pretty well against a strong team like the Gunners, who have so far not lost a single point.

WILLS v. S. CHINA.

There was a large crowd around the field long before the kick off. The soldiers kicked off, but failed to break through, the ball going to the Chinese left wing, who passed nicely into centre where Lucas intercepted and cleared. The ball was soon back again in the Wills' half. The Chinese nearly forced a goal but the Soldiers goalie got to the ball just in time. The attack was then transferred to the Chinese goal, but the latter's defence was up to the mark and cleared well. For a few minutes after this the Soldiers were all on the defensive. Ip Kau, the Chinese inside right just failing in front of goal several times. The Soldiers then woke up, and worked in lovely style down the field, Menham having hard times with a beautiful shot which the Chinese goalie saved, and threw out to Menham who again saved a stinger. The Athletic then attacked and kept the ball well in the Wills' half but the Soldiers' defence kept their goal intact. From a smart run on the left wing, Amor centred. Covey made no mistake putting in the Soldiers' first goal.

This in no way put the Athletic off their game, for after the restart, they attacked with their usual vim. Ko Kin Fan, their right wing having the Soldiers' Goalie to blame for not being able to score. Playing with combination, the Wills' forwards then swept up the field and would not be denied, Swarabrough registering the Soldiers' second goal. Half time went with the Soldiers on the defensive, but two goals in the lead. The Wills opened the second half by pressing hard, but without success. The Chinese forwards took the ball into enemy territory, Green at goal being their only stumbling block. Their persistence told soon after, however. They were awarded a penalty and Chan So found the net with a nice shot. This put the Chinese on their mettle and they tried hard to equalize, but Green kept the ball out time after time, and close on time Amor, by a fine individual effort, made the result sure by putting in the Wills' third goal.

R.G.A. v. "TAMAR"

The Sailors won the toss and were first to be dangerous. The Gunners goalie being called on to save in the first few minutes of play. The Gunners then attacked, but could not get past the "Tamar's" back line. Again the "Tamar" attacked, a promising movement being spoiled by offside. The free kick went to the Gunners, right wing, who ran upfield and shot hard for goal. The "Tamar" goalie managed to save but could not clear properly. Best batted the ball into the net, putting the Soldiers one up. From the kick off the "Tamar" forwards attacked, forcing a corner, which proved fruitless. The Sailors kept up a steady pressure for some time after this, but they missed scoring time after time, and the Gunners, getting away, forced a corner, without result. Soon afterwards the Sailors scored their first goal, Sweeney being responsible. They nearly repeated this soon afterwards, but the Gunners' goalie was very sure, and, although the "Tamar" attacked hard to the end of the first half, they could not get past him.

Kicking off in the second half the Sailors took the ball down and were awarded a free kick, which nearly brought them a goal. Heep, after cleverly beating the defence, putting behind. The Gunners then broke away. After forcing several corners in rapid succession, they broke through and Watson put them one up. The Sailors, nothing daunted, pressed hard, but had hard times, and the Gunners managed to increase their lead, McHugh being the scorer. Mr. Cheesley was referee.

POLICE v. CLUB.

The Club was down as a certain winner for this match, but the Police nearly showed them a clean pair of heels. The Club were first to attack but a nice run and pass on the part of Goldenberg was not taken advantage of, Sandberg putting weakly behind. The Club forwards tried again, but Rila was put outside and the ball went into the Club half only to be cleared in businesslike style by the Club defence. After a spell of midfield play, the Club again attacked and gave the Police Goalie a warm time, but their forwards were very weak in front of goal and the Police Goalie saved such few stingers as came his way. The score sheet was blank at half time.

Both sides had a fair share of attack and defence in the second half, each team just missing on several occasions. McPhail for the Club missed a penalty kick. The game ended in a goalless draw. Mr. Jones was referee.

KOWLOON v. "AMBROSE"

The Sailors kicked off and tried to break through but without success, the Kowloon defence clearing in assured style. Neither side could make much impression on the other's defence for some time after the kick off, play being very quick and well contested. The "Ambrose" were the first to score, Rawlings taking advantage of a nice centre from his right wing to beat Crocker at close quarters. The Kowloon forwards, nothing daunted, pressed hard and though at first unsuccessful, scored after pressing hard. Weyman beating the "Ambrose" goalie with a drop shot. After this, play was very well contested but neither set of forwards could increase their score. Mr. Wells bringing the game to an end as a 1 to 1 draw.

SECOND DIVISION.

S. Joseph's 5 Indians 0
S. China 5 Punjabis 0
H.K. Club 3 Recreio 2
United F.C. 1 Oilers 1

ST. JOSEPH'S v. INDIANS.

The college were far too strong for their opponents, who never came within an ace of proving dangerous, although they certainly were game to the last. St. Joseph's scored five times without reply.

S. CHINA v. PUNJABIS.

Although defeated decisively by five clear goals, the Punjabis put up a gallant attempt, the Athletic only scoring once in the first half. In the second half, however, superior combination and strength told, the Chinese going off the field with a 5-0 score.

The Referee was Mr. Seyer.

CLUB RES. v. RECREIO.

This match was played on the Club ground and a very evenly contested game ended in a win for the club by the odd goal in five. The Recreio were first to score, Cavalier being responsible. Half time went with the Recreio 1-0. The Club attacked from the restart, Wilkie beating the Recreio goalie with a stinging drive, and reasserting his performance shortly afterwards in a lucky third goal after his score. The Recreio then brought their ball in, Xavier putting the ball in. They had had lines after this, but though they tried hard for an equalizer, the whistle went with the odd goal against them.

Mr. Sambells was in charge.

UNITED F.C. v. OILERS.

This was about the best game in the Second division fixture list on Saturday. The play favoured neither side on the whole, the United being on the aggressive in the first and the Oilers having their turn in the second half. Kent scored for the United in the first half and Bath equalized in the second half for the Oilers. This score ruled at full time. Mr. Omar was referee—Ox Sap.

LAWN TENNIS.

BRADBURY'S TOUGH FIGHT.

The final of the Civil Service Club Singles championship was played yesterday afternoon, the players being B. W. Bradbury and E. C. Fincher. The game started at 3.15 with a strong cross wind blowing. The first few games were very scratchy but both soon settled down to play really good tennis. The first set went to Bradbury 8-6 after a hard tussle. The second was taken by the same player 6-4 without much difficulty. Fincher then got going with some good driving and placing at the net and outplayed his opponent, winning the third set 6-2. Bradbury made a great effort in the fourth set and relied chiefly on lobbing but Fincher showed that he was not worried by these tactics and won this set 6-4. The score was now two sets all and the final set proved the most exciting of all. Fincher quickly won the first two games playing with great confidence and was applauded for some very fine back-hand strokes. The score went to 5-2 in his favour, and he looked all over a winner. Bradbury then made a grand recovery and got in several overhead smashes from the middle of the court also driving hard and well with the forearm. He actually took the next five games and won the match 7-5. He gave a splendid exhibition of dogged perseverance and went all out for a win when apparently hopelessly beaten, and a more even match has seldom been witnessed in Hongkong. They each won twenty seven games.

Scores 2-6, 6-4, 2-6, 4-6, 7-5.

AWFUL EXPERIENCE.

MISSIONARY ASSAULTED.

ATTEMPT TO GOUGE OUT EYES.

The Rev. W. H. Gillespie of the Irish Presbyterian Mission at Kuanchengzu (Changchung) was recently the victim of an outrage of the most brutal and revolting description. The account states:—
"On Sunday morning (November 14th) at three o'clock the fourth attempt at robbery within the month was made. Mr. Gillespie was attacked by one or two men, and he knocked one of the men out when he was immediately set upon by five others. They overpowered him and hacked him with a small axe and stung him till he fainted away. When they supposed he was dead they left him and fled. Mr. Gillespie's face especially about the eyes, which they attempted to gouge out with their naked fingers, is badly damaged and the sight of one eye is lost entirely. Mr. Gillespie's wife and family are at home, and he was living in his house on the outskirts of Kuanchengzu."

FUTURE OF IRELAND.

LONDON, November 25th. In the House of Lords, during the Home Rule debate, Lord Midleton supported the amendment of the bill in South Ireland. The Government, he said, were pledged to safeguard the South as well as the North, and the bill did not contain a vestige of vindictive or vindictive. He considered that the Government were not to meet with defeat in the South and the West at present. He, therefore, moved an amendment of the debate for a fortnight, in order that the Government may further make up with them.

Lord Midleton and Lord Curzon supported the motion. Lord Curzon declared that if fiscal autonomy were given, Sinn Féin would not accept it. He believed that the Government could govern themselves. If a real proposal for fiscal autonomy were forthcoming from a body competent to speak for the majority of Ireland, they would go a long way to meet it. In this connection, Lord Curzon pointed out that machinery was provided in the bill by which such a request could be made in the shape of a National Council.

Lord Midleton's motion was rejected by 177 votes to 81. Lord Curzon's motion of rejection of the bill was defeated by 164 votes to 73. The Home Rule Bill passed its second reading.

LONDON, November 25th. In the House of Commons, the Irish debate, Colonel Ward vigorously defended the British side. It was a gross and deliberate lie, he said, to allege that the British side was more humane, chivalrous and honorable in war-time, would either deliberately bayonet a pregnant woman or a child of ten years. Those who made these charges knew them to be untrue. He moved an amendment defeating all Mr. Asquith's charges, and substituting thanks to the military, the police and other servants of the Crown for their courage and devotion to duty in a time of unexampled difficulty, and approving the steps taken by the Government to restore peace in Ireland.

Sir Donald Maclean denied that the Liberals were trying to make party capital out of the revolution, or that they were bent on the destruction of the Government. He declared that the Government's policy was to restore peace in Ireland. He declared that the Government's policy was to restore peace in Ireland.

General Solly, who left the Coalition and transferred himself to opposition benches, declared that he would have no quarrel with the Government. He declared that the Government's policy was to restore peace in Ireland.

Mr. Asquith's resolution was defeated by 203 votes to 82. The amendment was carried without a division. One soldier and one policeman were ambushed and killed in the main street in Dublin last night.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Lloyd George stated that the Cabinet had definitely come to the conclusion that it was undesirable at present to confer with the Government. He declared that the Government's policy was to restore peace in Ireland.

In a striking passage in a speech in the House of Commons, Sir Hamar Greenwood appealed to the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church in Ireland to condemn murder with the same zeal with which it had fought against the Government. He declared that the Government's policy was to restore peace in Ireland.

LONDON, November 25th. The search at Liberty Hall, Dublin, yesterday resulted in the discovery of a number of bombs, one revolver and a quantity of ammunition, but the Labour leaders arrested have been released.

The War Office announced that, during October, 7 officers and 6 soldiers were murdered in Ireland and 27 soldiers were wounded. The total killed and wounded up to date are: 23 killed and 88 wounded.

The Chief Engineer of Manchester Corporation has declared that it has been discovered that the passes used by the Sinn Féin spies were obtained and used in October through an innocent employee at the request of two women known to the police. Last week-end was an anxious time for all at the station. All defence precautions have now been taken.

LONDON, Nov. 25. Moran, the Sinn Féin leader of Galway, who was arrested yesterday, was shot dead while attempting to escape. The body of a tailor was found at Killogeary, County Cork, riddled with bullets.

An armed band shot dead an ex-soldier at Timmuck, County Westmeath. While the police were searching a house at Newry the occupant attempted to escape and was seriously wounded.

An Inspector of Constabulary was shot through the cheeks to-night in a street in Cork.

CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTORS.

New York, November 25th. It is announced that all army conscientious objectors, a majority of whom have been in prison for two years, have been released.

LOUAIN UNIVERSITY.

New York, November 25th. The well-known New York architect, Mr. Whitney Warren, has been selected to build the University of Louvain.

LONDON, November 25th. A remarkable change of focus on the part of the French Government appears to have taken place according to newspapers. The Premier, M. Leygues, speaking in the Foreign Affairs Committee, stated that the Government had decided to permit French merchants and manufacturers to open commercial relations with Soviet Russia, though there was no question of recognizing the Bolshevik Government.

The Premier also stated that Germany was keeping her SpA agreements and had reduced the army to 150,000 and delivered coal as promised.

UNITED STATES SHIPPING.

LONDON, November 25th. In connection with the proposal that the United States shipping should participate in the trade between the Far East and Great Britain and the Continent, the Times states that the difficulty which stood in the way has been removed, and the representatives of the United States vessels have expressed their willingness to join the conference and also to observe the practice of the system of deferred rebates. It appears that the shipping power of the United States is being put to the test in world trade outside the United States which are still not permissible there. The agreement is to be signed shortly.

WHAT TO DO FOR STOMACH TROUBLE.

Nine-tenths of all forms of indigestion or so-called stomach trouble are not due to the condition of the stomach at all, but are caused by other influences. The great contributing cause of indigestion is thin blood. Good blood and plenty of it is required by the stomach to take care of the food. If the blood is thin the stomach functions sluggishly, food lies undigested, gas forms and causes pain in various parts of the body. Instead of getting nourishment from the blood the system gets poison. Relief from this condition can be obtained by the tonic treatment which Mr. Joseph Williams of No. 63 Baggot Street, August, Me. U.S.A., tried and now recommends to his friends.

"I became badly run down following a severe cold," says Mr. Williams. "My stomach was badly affected and I suffered frequently from severe pains after eating. I had sour stomach at times and dizzy spells. I lost flesh and it seemed as though I did not have any strength."

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me and I began the treatment. Soon I felt greatly improved and continued taking the pills until I was restored to health. I am no longer tired and do not become exhausted. My stomach does not trouble me and I eat with comfort and enjoyment without fear of after effects. I have regained my strength and the dizzy spells have disappeared. I certainly can recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

A booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat," which tells about this treatment, will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 63 Baggot Street, Dublin. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price, $1.50 the bottle, $5.00 for 6 bottles, post free.
